IKOR key technology SIP helps major insurers simplify transition to Guidewire Cloud

IKOR, European technology consultancy and platform integrator, will present its novel key technology SIP (System Integration Platform) at Guidewire Connections. With its deep Guidewire expertise, IKOR helps insurers reduce risks in the transition to Guidewire Cloud - through a step-by-step implementation of their transformation strategy.

Hamburg/Germany, 2022 October 18.

The SIP developed by IKOR, which can be used in a variety of contexts, is technologically proven and in use at well-known international insurers and in the public sector. IKOR has made the SIP open source in 2021 and allows its customers to design a standardized integration architecture - without vendor dependencies. IKOR is now presenting this mature, innovative solution at Guidewire Connections in Las Vegas.

"We are very pleased to have IKOR's skilled and experienced team of certified consultants helping us implement and integrate Guidewire solutions for the international insurance market in a knowledgeable and efficient way according to national standards. We are also delighted to welcome IKOR as a Bronze Sponsor at Guidewire Connections 2022," said Molly Black, Senior Director Partner Programs and Enablement, Alliances, Guidewire.

"For years, IKOR has been a key partner to major international insurers - with broad Guidewire expertise. We think about integration holistically and end-to-end. We are pleased that with the SIP, IKOR can help large insurers move to Guidewire Cloud easily, quickly, and cost-effectively," said Hans-Jürgen von Henning, Chief Product Owner and Integration Expert at IKOR.

IKOR is a Guidewire Software PartnerConnect Consulting partner at the Select level and SAP Gold Partner, among others. IKOR has a pan-European footprint, projects worldwide, employs the most Guidewire-certified consultants in Germany, and operates a near-shore center in Poland specializing in Guidewire technologies and holding multiple certifications for insurance clients in the Guidewire environment. Guidewire's award-winning IKOR consultants hold various certifications, including on more specialized products such as Guidewire DataHub. Guidewire Education also uses IKOR's Guidewire-trained trainers to train customers in German-speaking countries.
